

JAAN FERREE

INTENTIONAL DESIGNER

CASE STUDY:

Susan Enderle's mountain residence

INITIAL BRIEF:

With the softness of the mountains everywhere without, the energy inside needs to spin around the creative inclinations of the owner, especially in displays of original art.

DESIGN STRATEGY:

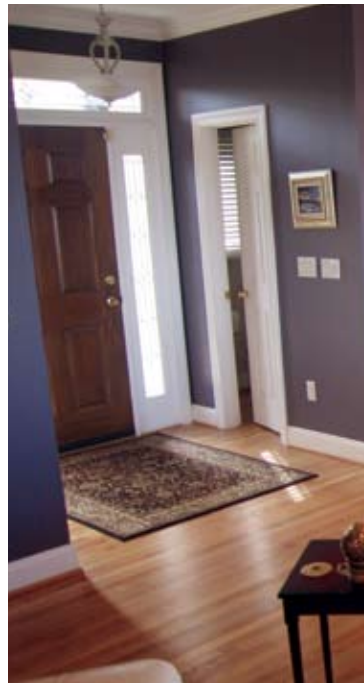

Create a home where art and high craft spills into space, and into conversation.

APPLIED IDEAS:

An unexpected palette of wall colors, surprising outcroppings of both dramatic and playful pieces, a "stepping off" studio space for reading and creative work.

AFTERWARD NOTES:

"Jaan, I am so appreciative of the work you did. You are such a genius in transforming dreams and desires into a wonderful living space. Thank you. Thank you. Thank you," writes Susan Enderle, owner.

*Clockwise from left top:
The whole of a "great" room,
sketches rescued from childhood,
a billowy bath, a soft and inviting entrance, an artful
space for making art.*